

Britton Corbin

Officer Britton Corbin was born in Fort Walton Beach, FL and was raised in Baker, FL. Corbin graduated high school in Illinois then returned to Florida where he graduated from Pensacola State College and attended the University of West Florida for Sports Medicine. Corbin began his career with the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) in 2014 when he began and graduated from FWC Academy Class 23. Corbin was assigned to his hometown of Okaloosa County, where he continues to serve as a patrol officer.

While working in Okaloosa County Corbin has rescued numerous distressed swimmers in the Destin Pass and received a lifesaving award for his heroic actions. Corbin became an Officer Specialist in 2019 and is a member of the Northwest Special Operations Group (SOG) team. Corbin has been on numerous hurricane deployments as part of the NW SOG team to help those affected by hurricanes. Corbin has been a member of the FWC BUI/DUI Task force in the Northwest Region for the past 3 years where he has made over 50 arrests for Boating Under the Influence. Corbin is a Field Training Officer and has trained 5 new officers in the Northwest Region over the last 2 years. Corbin is also a CrossFit Coach and fitness instructor in the Northwest Region. Corbin takes pride in being an FTO, teaching new officers, and maintaining physical fitness.